

AFRICA'S MANUFACTURER

EMS companies have traditionally operated out of American, Asian and European territories with little or no presence on the African continent. CZ has seized on this historic blind spot to provide world-class EMS' for Africa, from within Africa.

No other EMS company can match CZ's understanding of local market requirements. Whether discussing localization of manufactured content or consumer products designed to specifically address African requirements, CZ has a proven track record of delivering on both counts.

QUALITY

Further enhancing a competitive African manufacturing industry is central to CZ's business strategy. Skills retention and development combined with state-of-the-art machinery has created an African powerhouse supplying products of unsurpassed quality.

The quality of our products extends beyond the walls of our factory, we have assembled an extensive network of suppliers who provide materials and off-the-shelf components as used by some of the worlds leading electronics companies.

ECONOMIC ADVANTAGE

Manufacturing on the African continent carries with it numerous economic benefits for both sub-Saharan and Rest-of-Africa countries. A multitude of bilateral trade agreements and government legislation encouraging local manufacture combine to create strong argument to source manufacturing partners based on the continent.

Avoidance of punitive import tariff's encourages companies, be they large international conglomerates looking to localize product content or local consumer retailers looking for high-quality best value products, to consider local manufacture.

Years of intensive capital investment supported by highly skilled labour and dynamic leadership have created an EMS powerhouse for the equal benefit of African Industry, business and the end-consumer alike.
