

NEW CLIENT ONBOARDING

CZ's open-door policy to new clients ensures the shortest possible gestation period and gets your electronics plans on track sooner and with the least amount of hassle.

We minimize red-tape processes to get your product from concept to a marketable, finished article in the shortest possible time frame without ever sacrificing on quality.

FROM INTRODUCTION...

With direct access to the CZ leadership, potential clients are always welcome to make contact to assess the feasibility of their intended project. Following initial introductions, our team will set about tailoring your products specifications and assess this final spec against current available stock.

A quote will be prepared detailing product specifications, components required and total cost to produce right up to delivery on the final product.

... TO DELIVERY

Upon acceptance of the quote a contract is drawn up and signed to protect both parties and limit potentially detrimental, unforeseen circumstances. Following a basic check to establish the legal and financial standing of the contracting party final payment terms are negotiated.

Following the conclusion of the deal, CZ will set to work sourcing, manufacturing and testing your specified product.

CZ Electronics is a pro-business organization, we believe in making commercial deals that work for all parties and deliver a phenomenal final product.
